

BIONET Expert Group

Constitutional Document

---

1. Name

Within Workpackage No. 4 of the EU FP6-project BIONET: Ethical Governance of Biological and Biomedical Research: Chinese European Co-operation, Contract No. 036788

an

European and Chinese Expert Group on Ethical Governance of Research in the Life Sciences and Biomedicine

has been established. Its name can equally be

Chinese and European Expert Group on Ethical Governance of Research in the Life Sciences and Biomedicine

or for short: BIONET Expert Group

2. Objectives and functions

The BIONET Expert Group has four objectives:

1. To contribute to establishing standards and guidelines for best practice in the Ethical Governance of Research in the Life Sciences and Biomedicine, with a specific focus on EU-China collaboration.
2. To act as advisors to actual and potential research partnerships.
3. To help in the development and oversight of regulatory procedures and standards.
4. To provide a resource for those wishing to regulate or evaluate research in the life sciences and biomedicine in collaborations between EU and China.

The Expert Group will (1) fulfill an advisory role for the BIONET and its options, in particular the Steering Committee and the partners.

It will (2) also advise the political and scientific authorities of actual and potential research partnerships between European Union and China including public bodies and private corporations working in this sector about best practice on problematic ethical issues of governance of research in the Life Sciences and Biomedicine. It aims to help in the development and oversight of regulatory procedures and standards.

It will (3) provide a platform for cross-cultural exchange in bioethics and represent an international network of expertise. As such it will have a disseminating role for results from the project, and work in concert with the Steering Committee.

3. Composition

The Expert Group is composed of the following regular members:

Dr. Ole Döring

Professor Herbert Gottweis

Dr. Margaret Sleeboom-Faulkner
